THE STORY OF THE SAND and SEA PEOPLE

SANDER of the Sand People
lives on the golden beach.

WILLOW of the Sea People lives in the kelp forest under the sea.

Both tribes are known to be sceptical about each other. Day and night, they warn family about the outsiders...

...feeding myths and negative beliefs about one another.

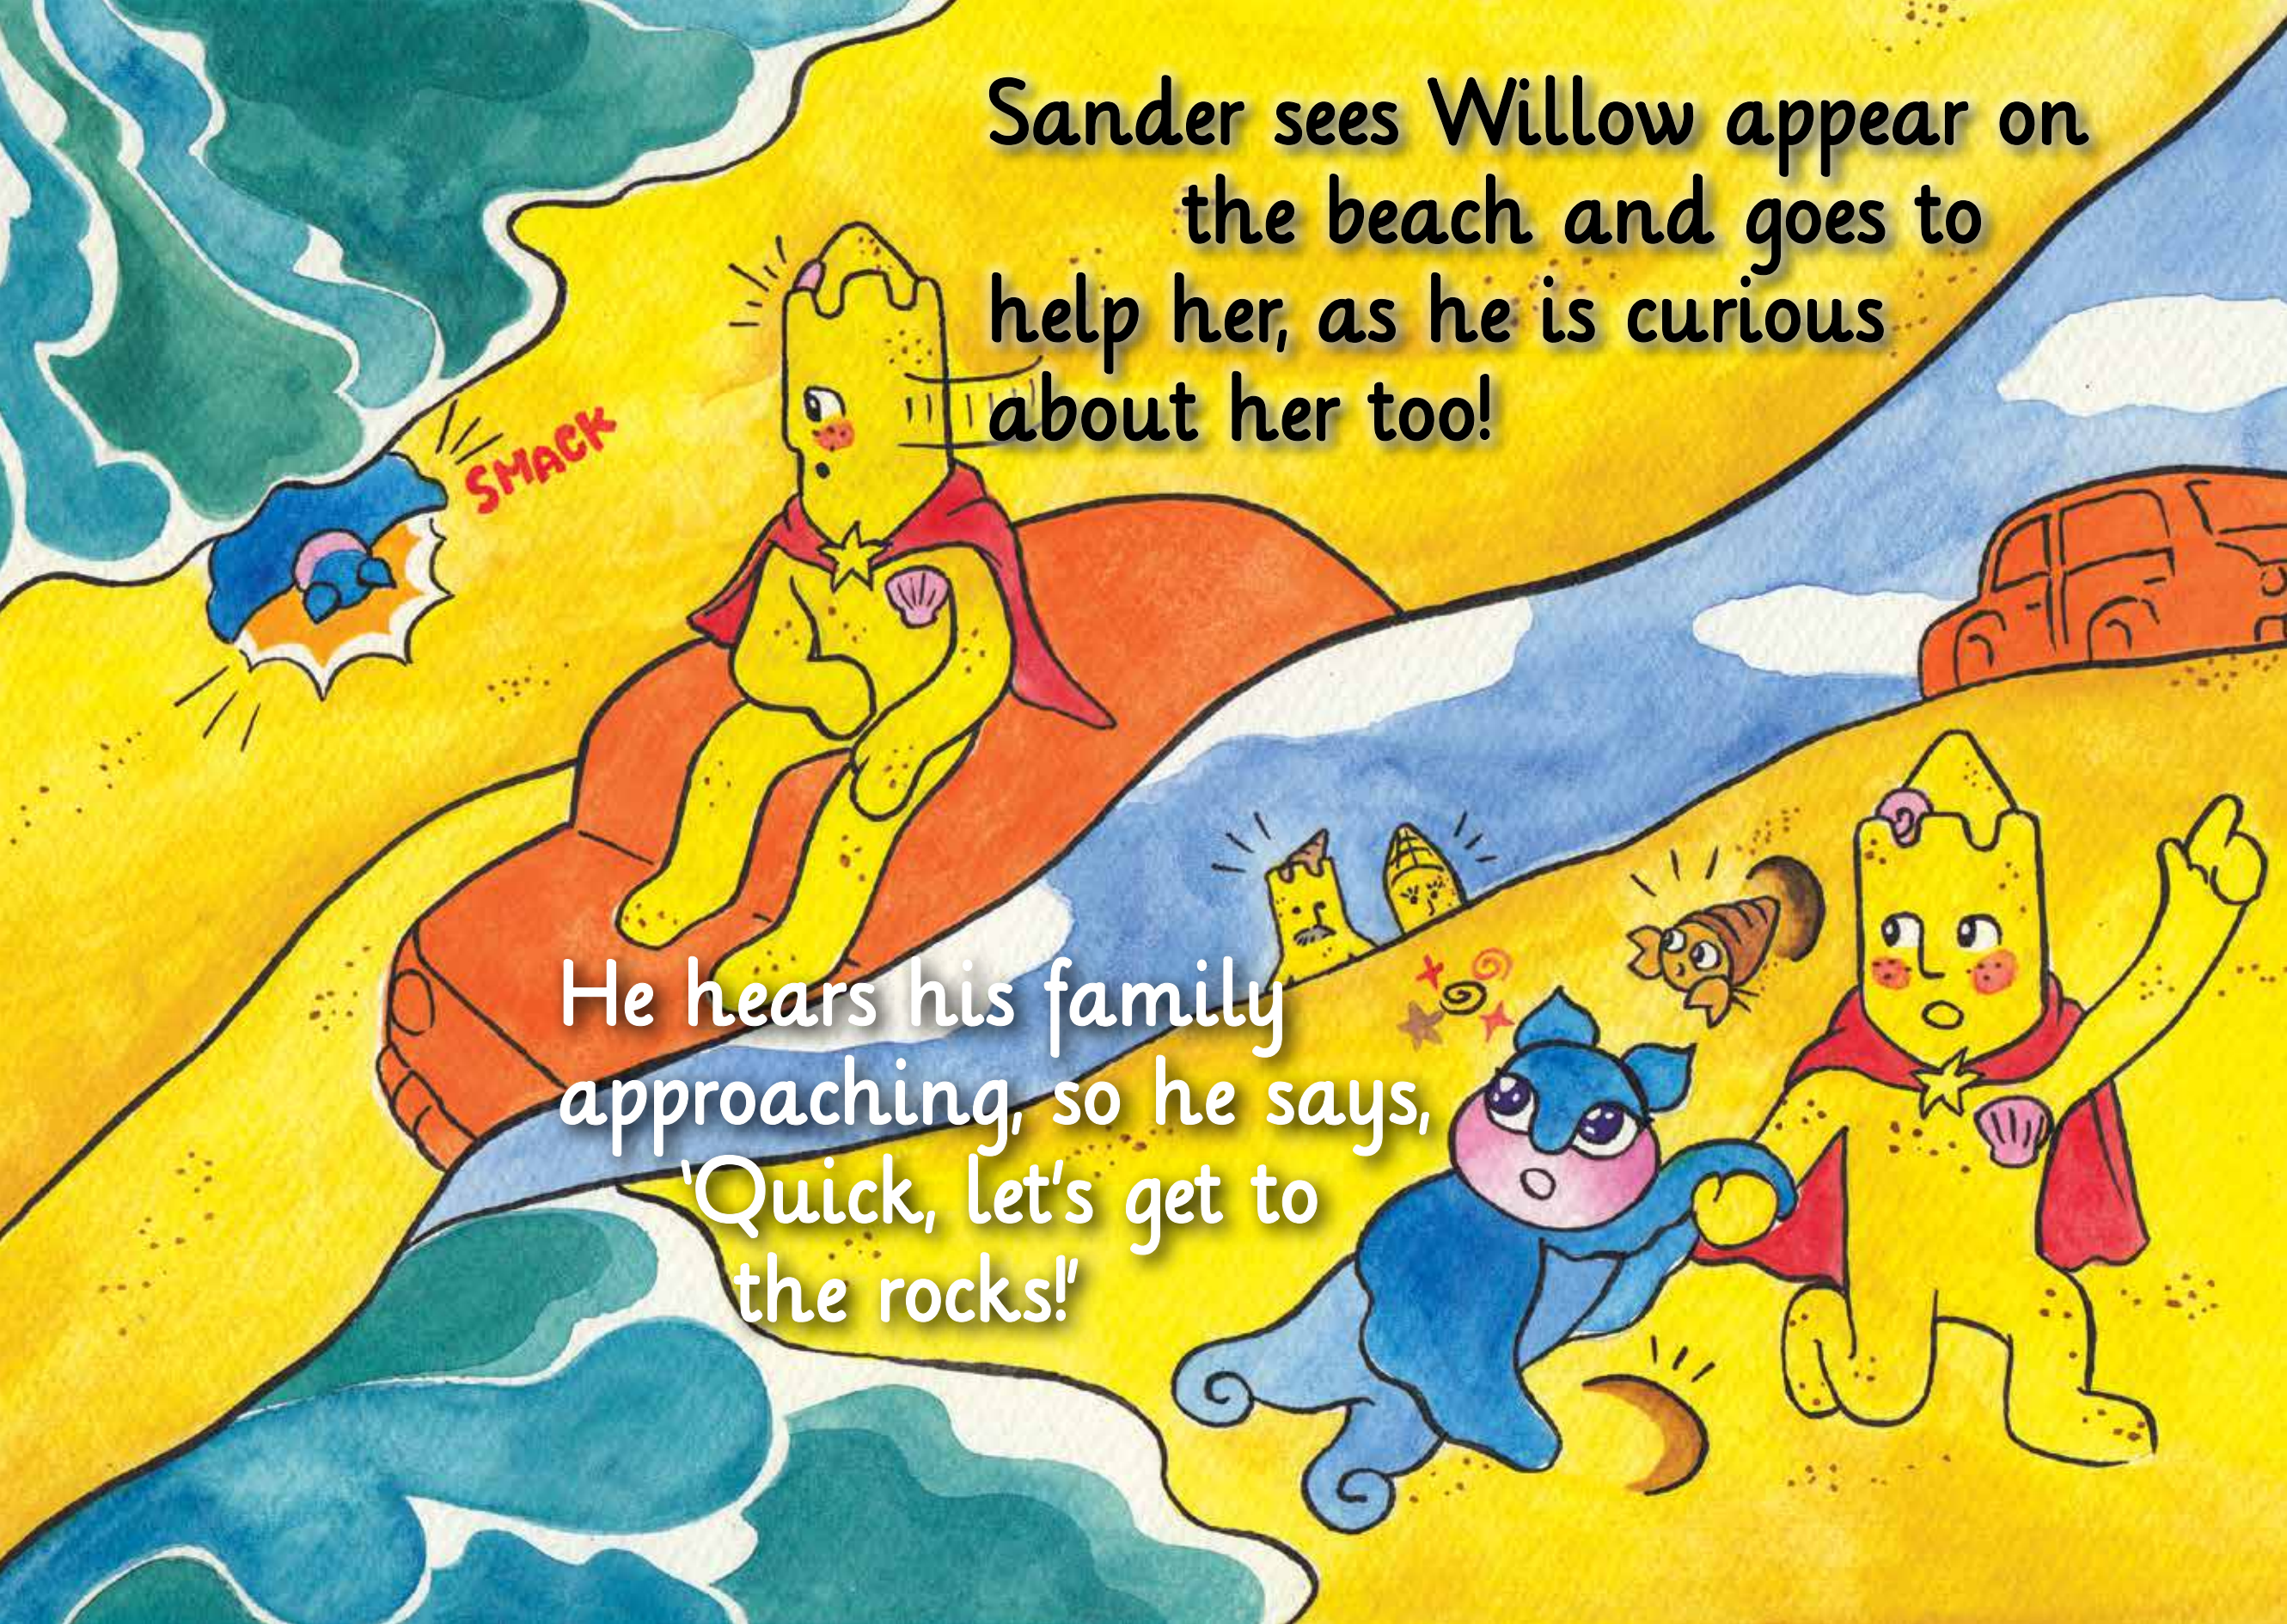

Yet the youngsters remain curious. This brings Willow to the surface to watch Sander from afar...

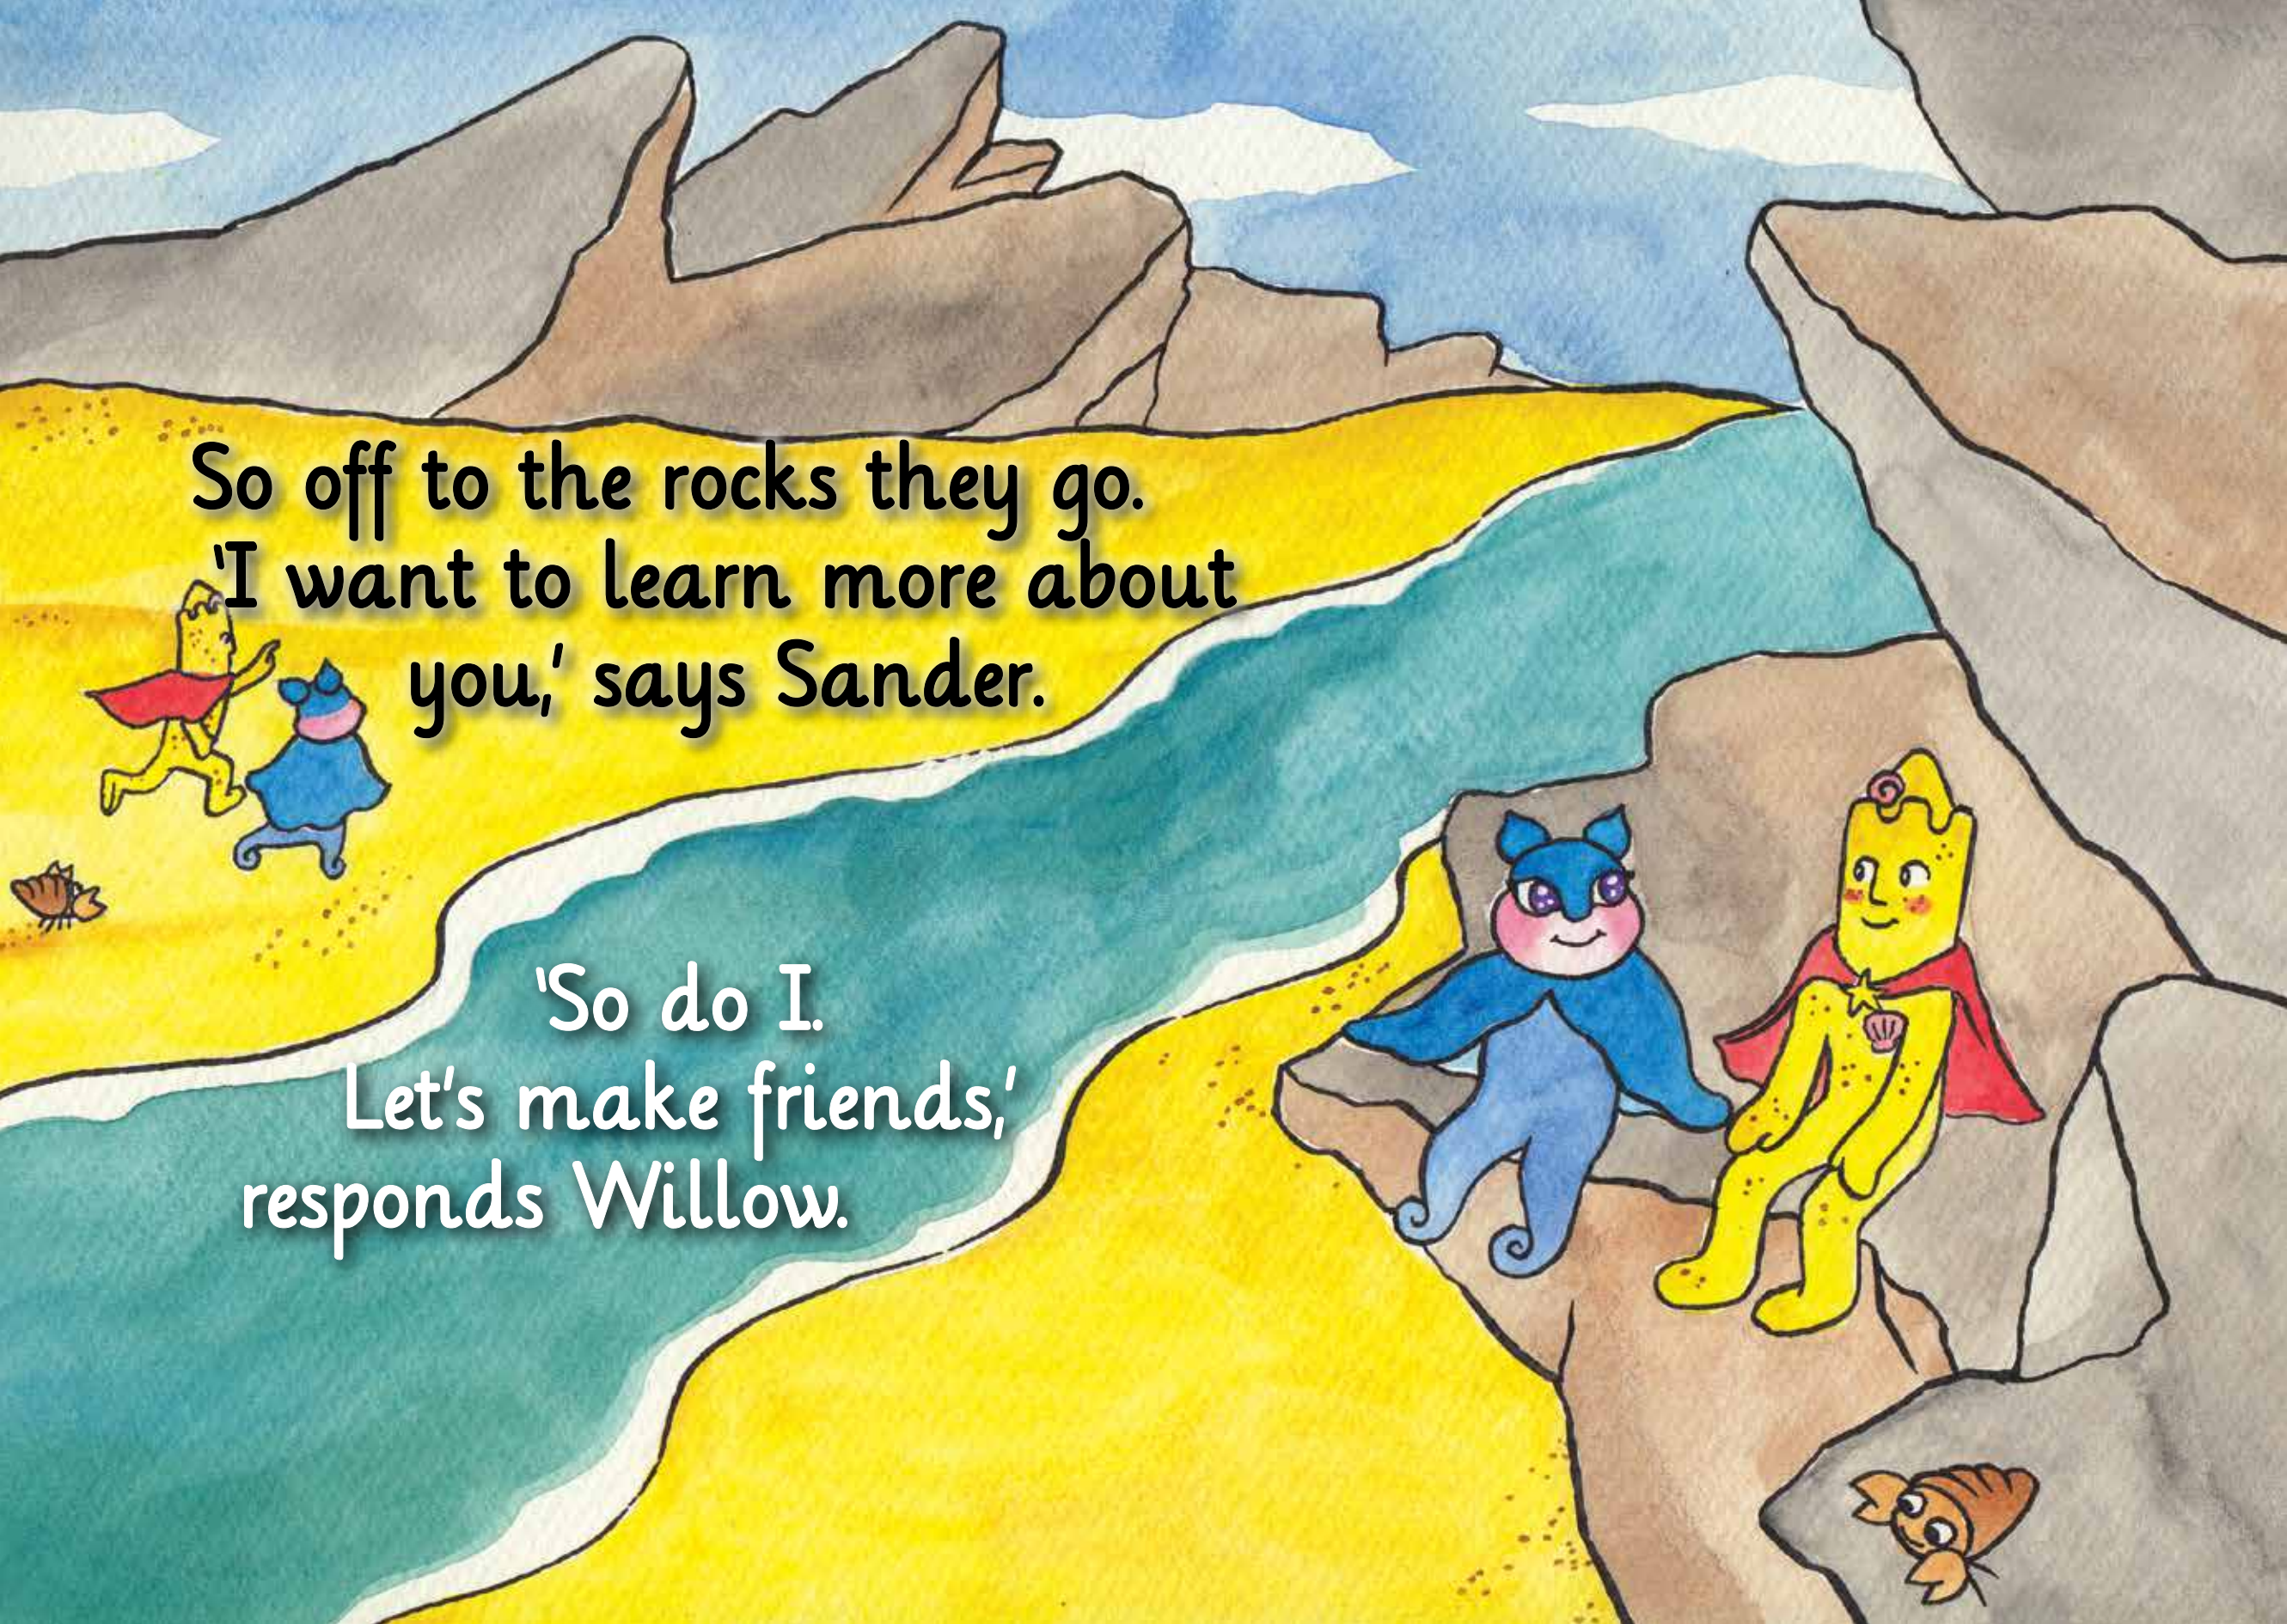

ROAARR!

...until a big wave washes her ashore by surprise!

Sander sees Willow appear on the beach and goes to help her, as he is curious about her too!

He hears his family approaching, so he says, 'Quick, let's get to the rocks!'

So off to the rocks they go.
'I want to learn more about you,' says Sander.

'So do I.
Let's make friends,' responds Willow.

Over time, they meet
at the rocks to play,
share stories, dance,
and fall in love.

'They will never accept us here,' says Sander. Willow sees the forest and has an idea.

'Only one way to find out!'
says Willow bravely.

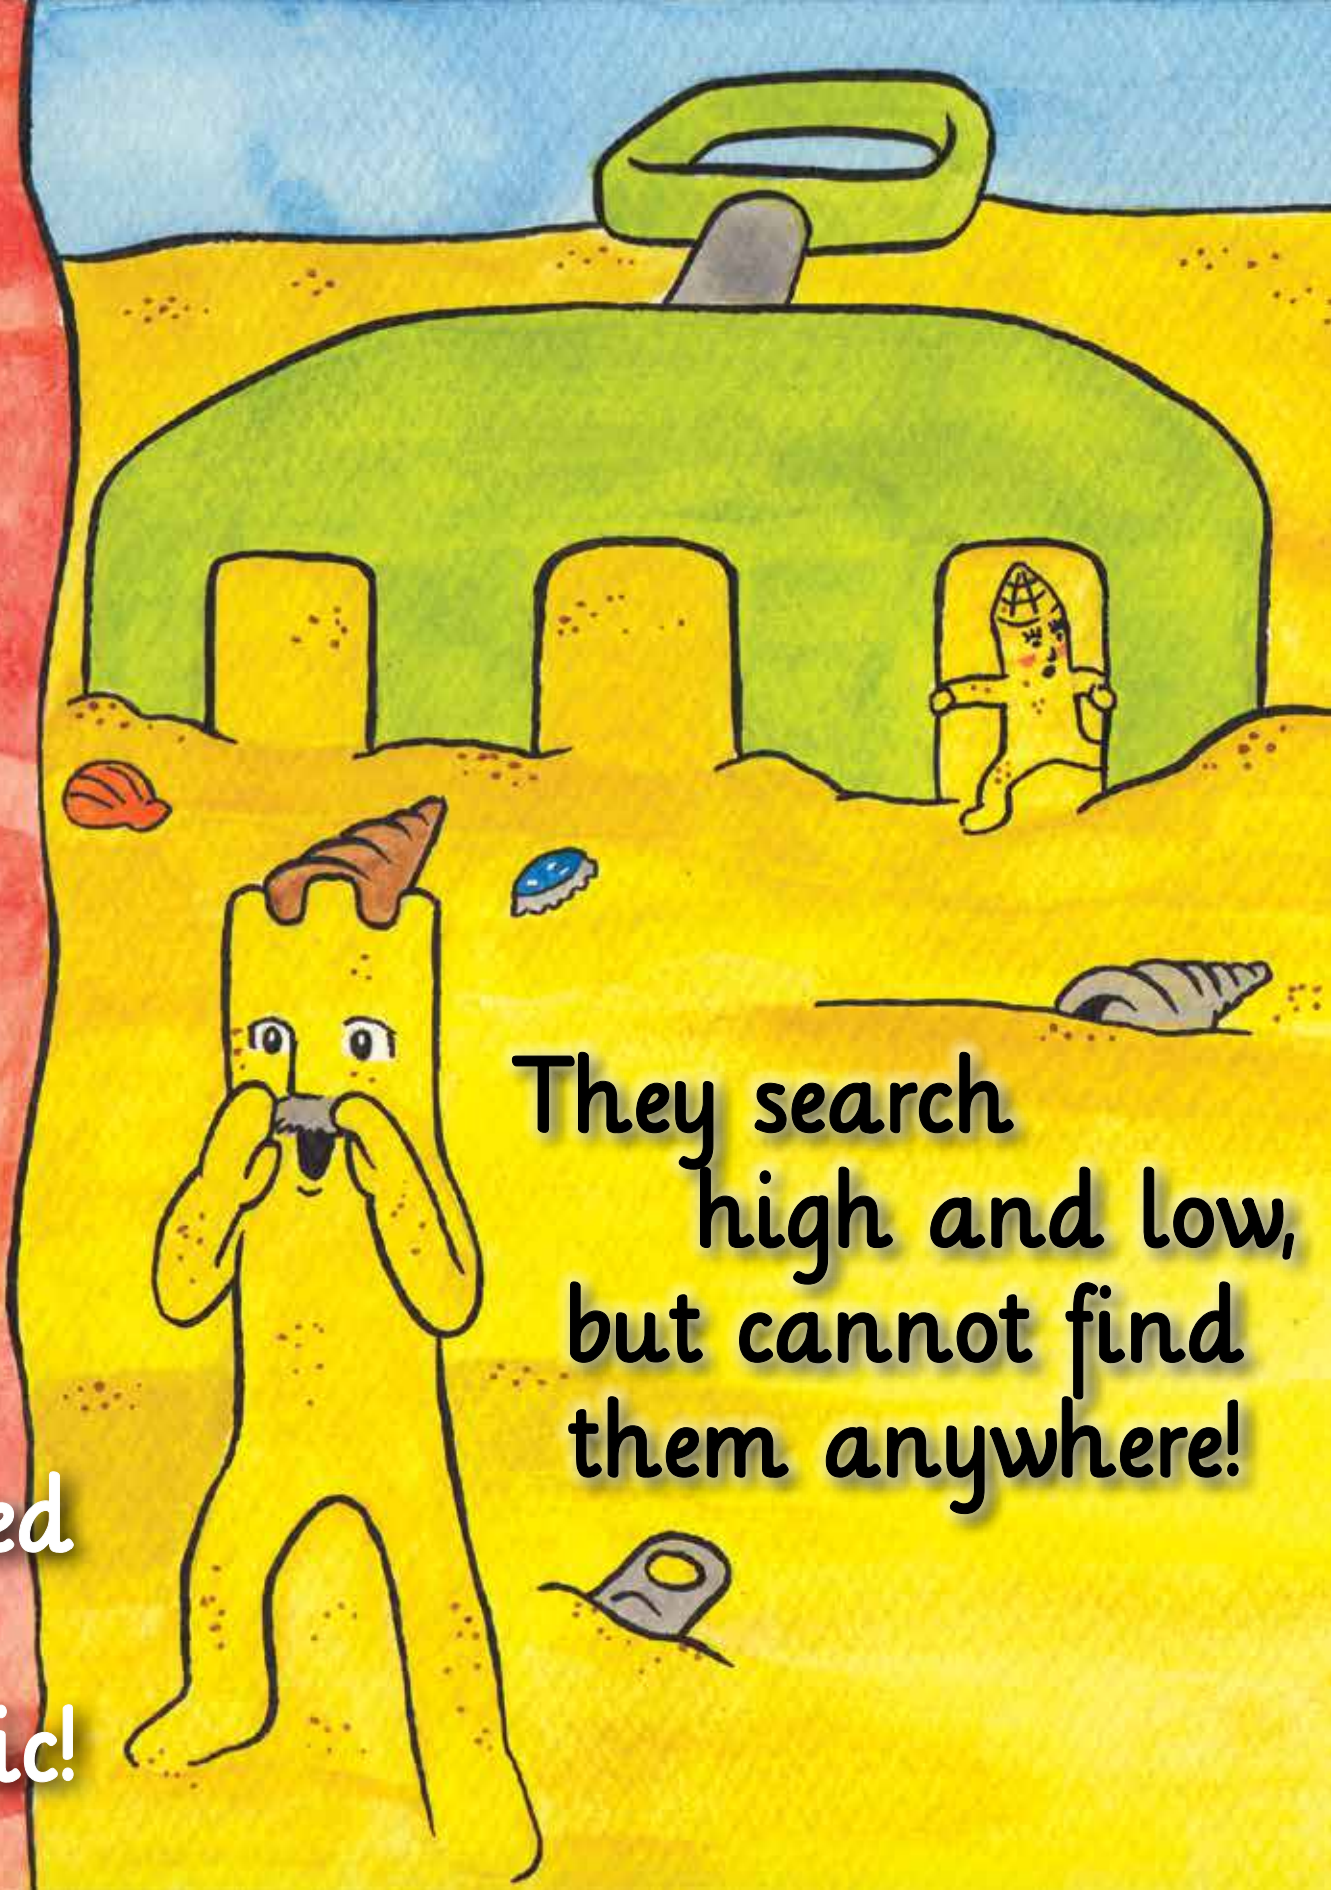

'Are you sure
about the forest?
I heard many scary things...'

Meanwhile, both families grow worried about their kids' whereabouts and start to panic!

They search high and low, but cannot find them anywhere!

With an unsuccessful search, both families decide to meet on the beach. After joining forces, the group finds a large forest.

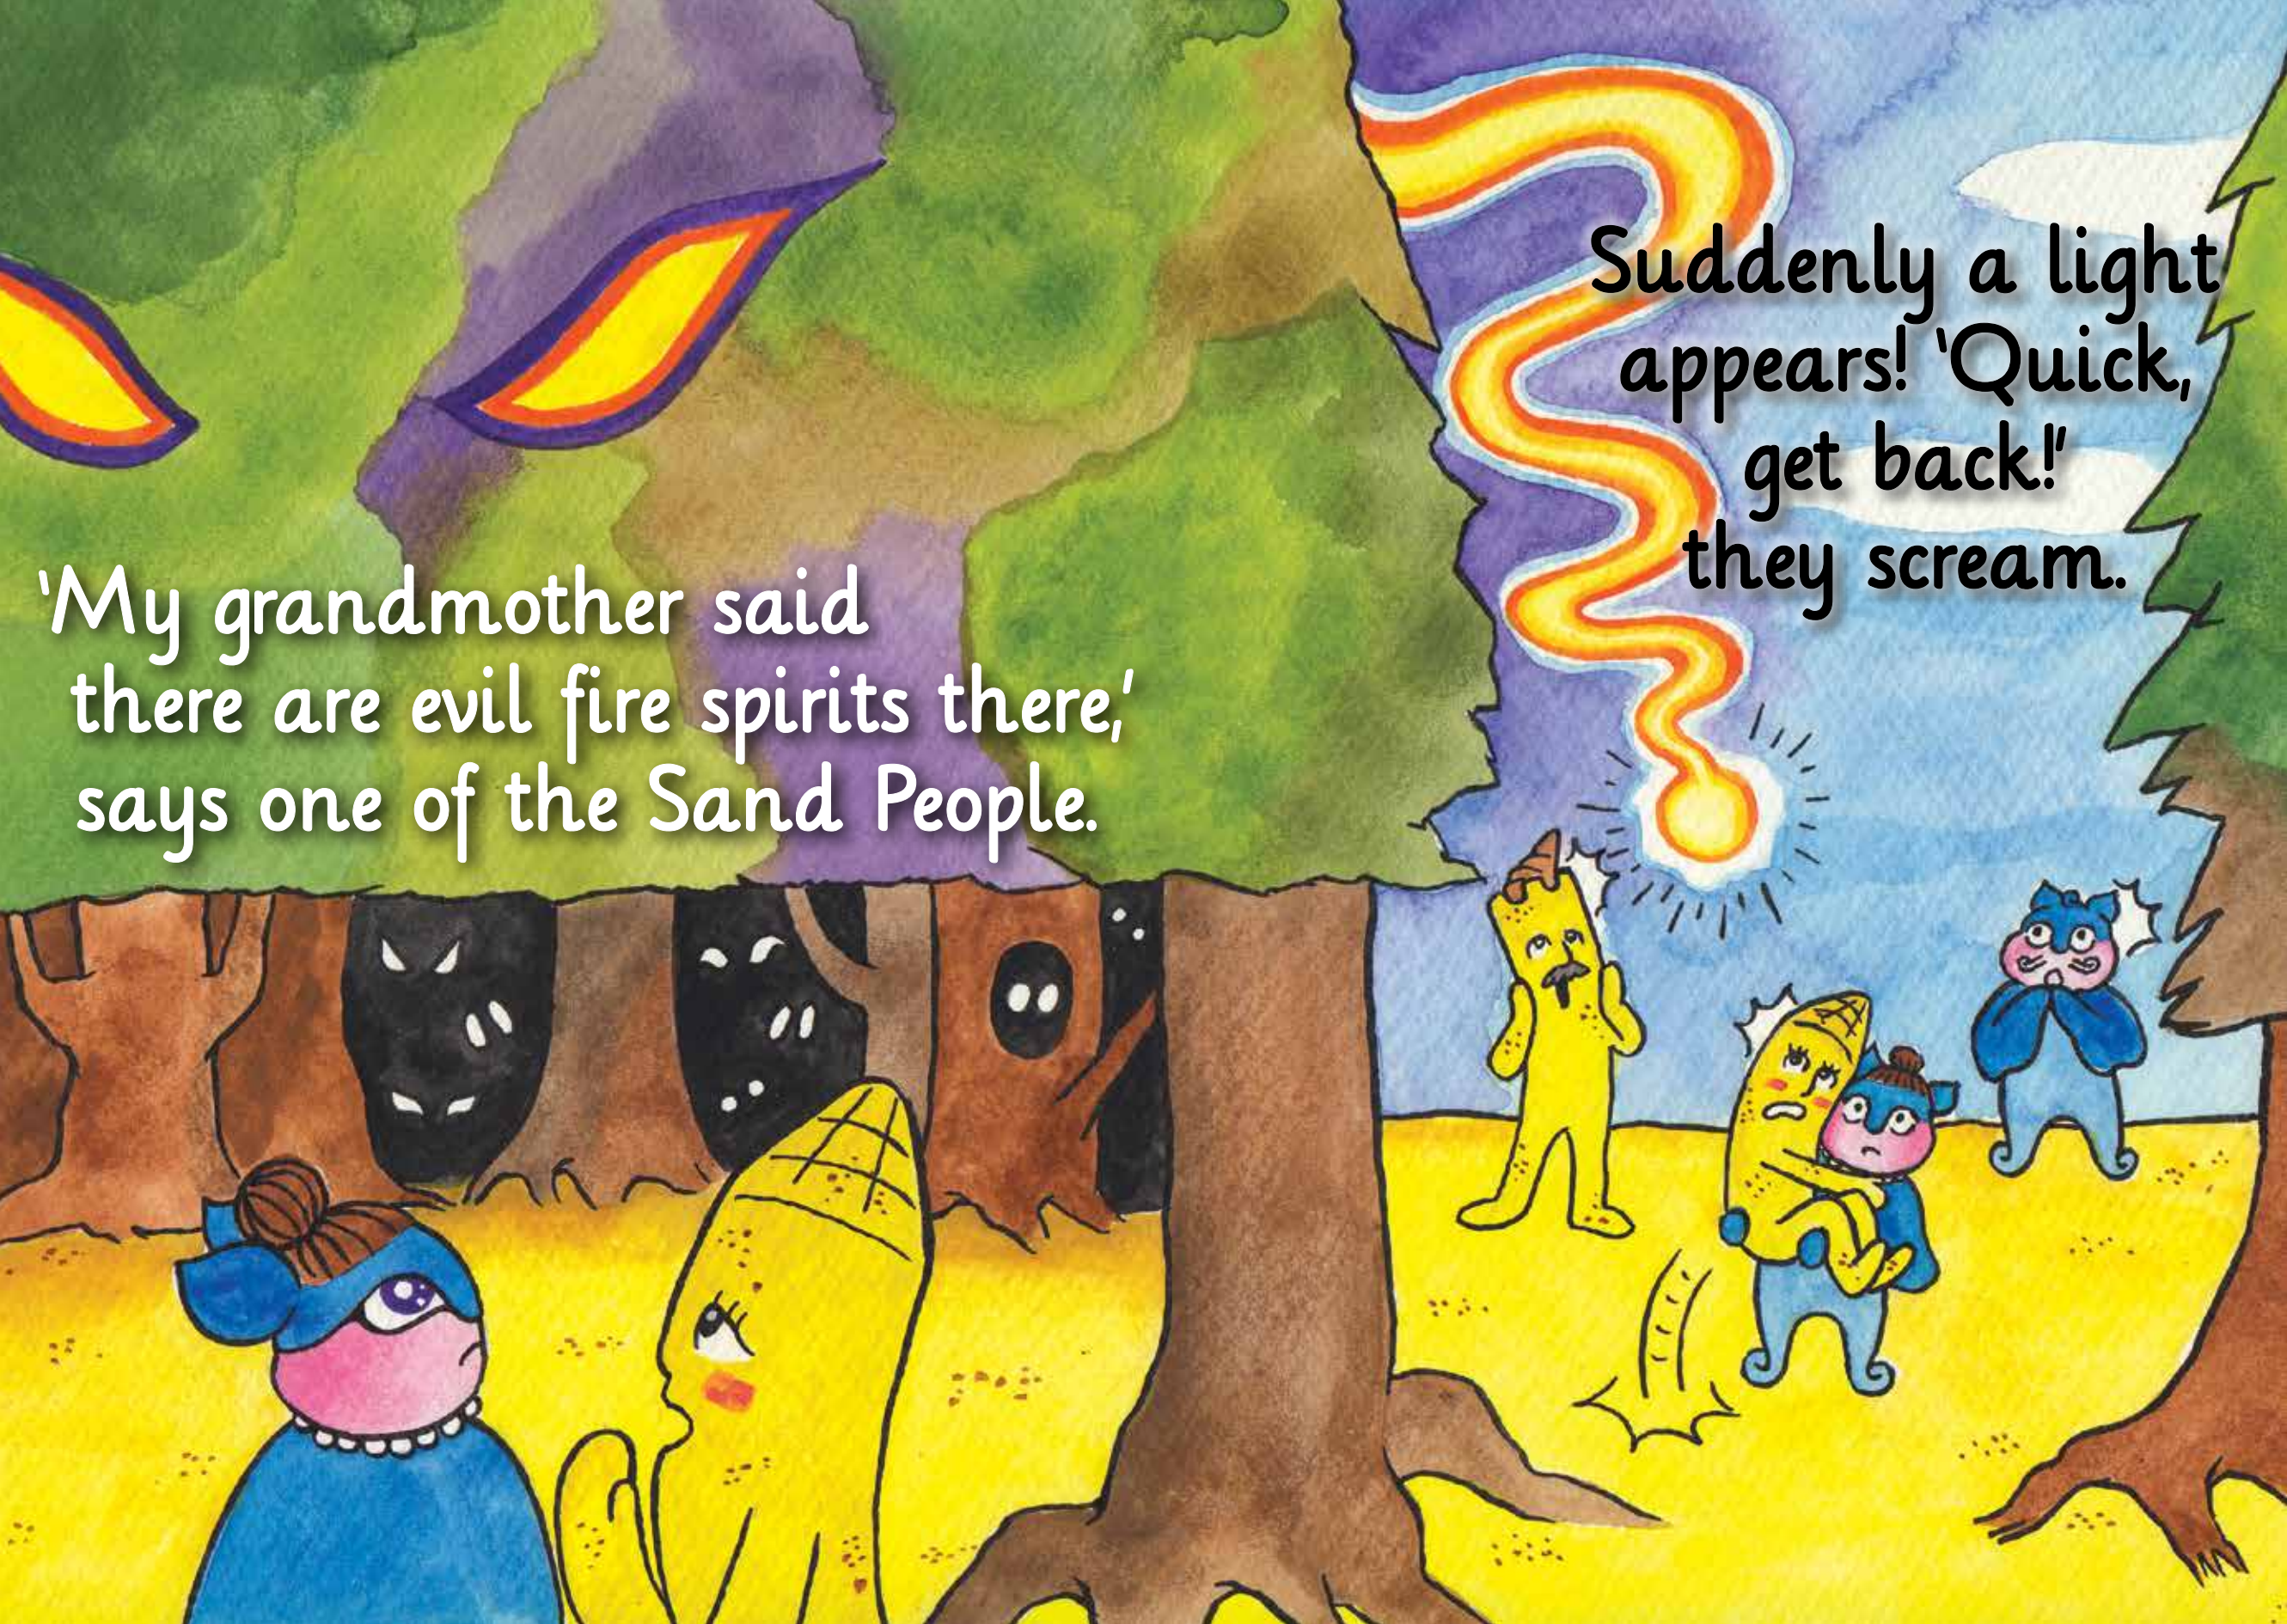

'Could they be there?', asks one of them as they walk over.

'Let's find them together!'

'My grandmother said there are evil fire spirits there,' says one of the Sand People.

Suddenly a light appears! 'Quick, get back!' they scream.

Quickly they discover
it's just a harmless firefly.

They also realise
what nonsense
they've been feeding
each other.

So they make their way into the big forest.

What do they find?

A lush and happy paradise with an abundance of life, fruit and foliage.

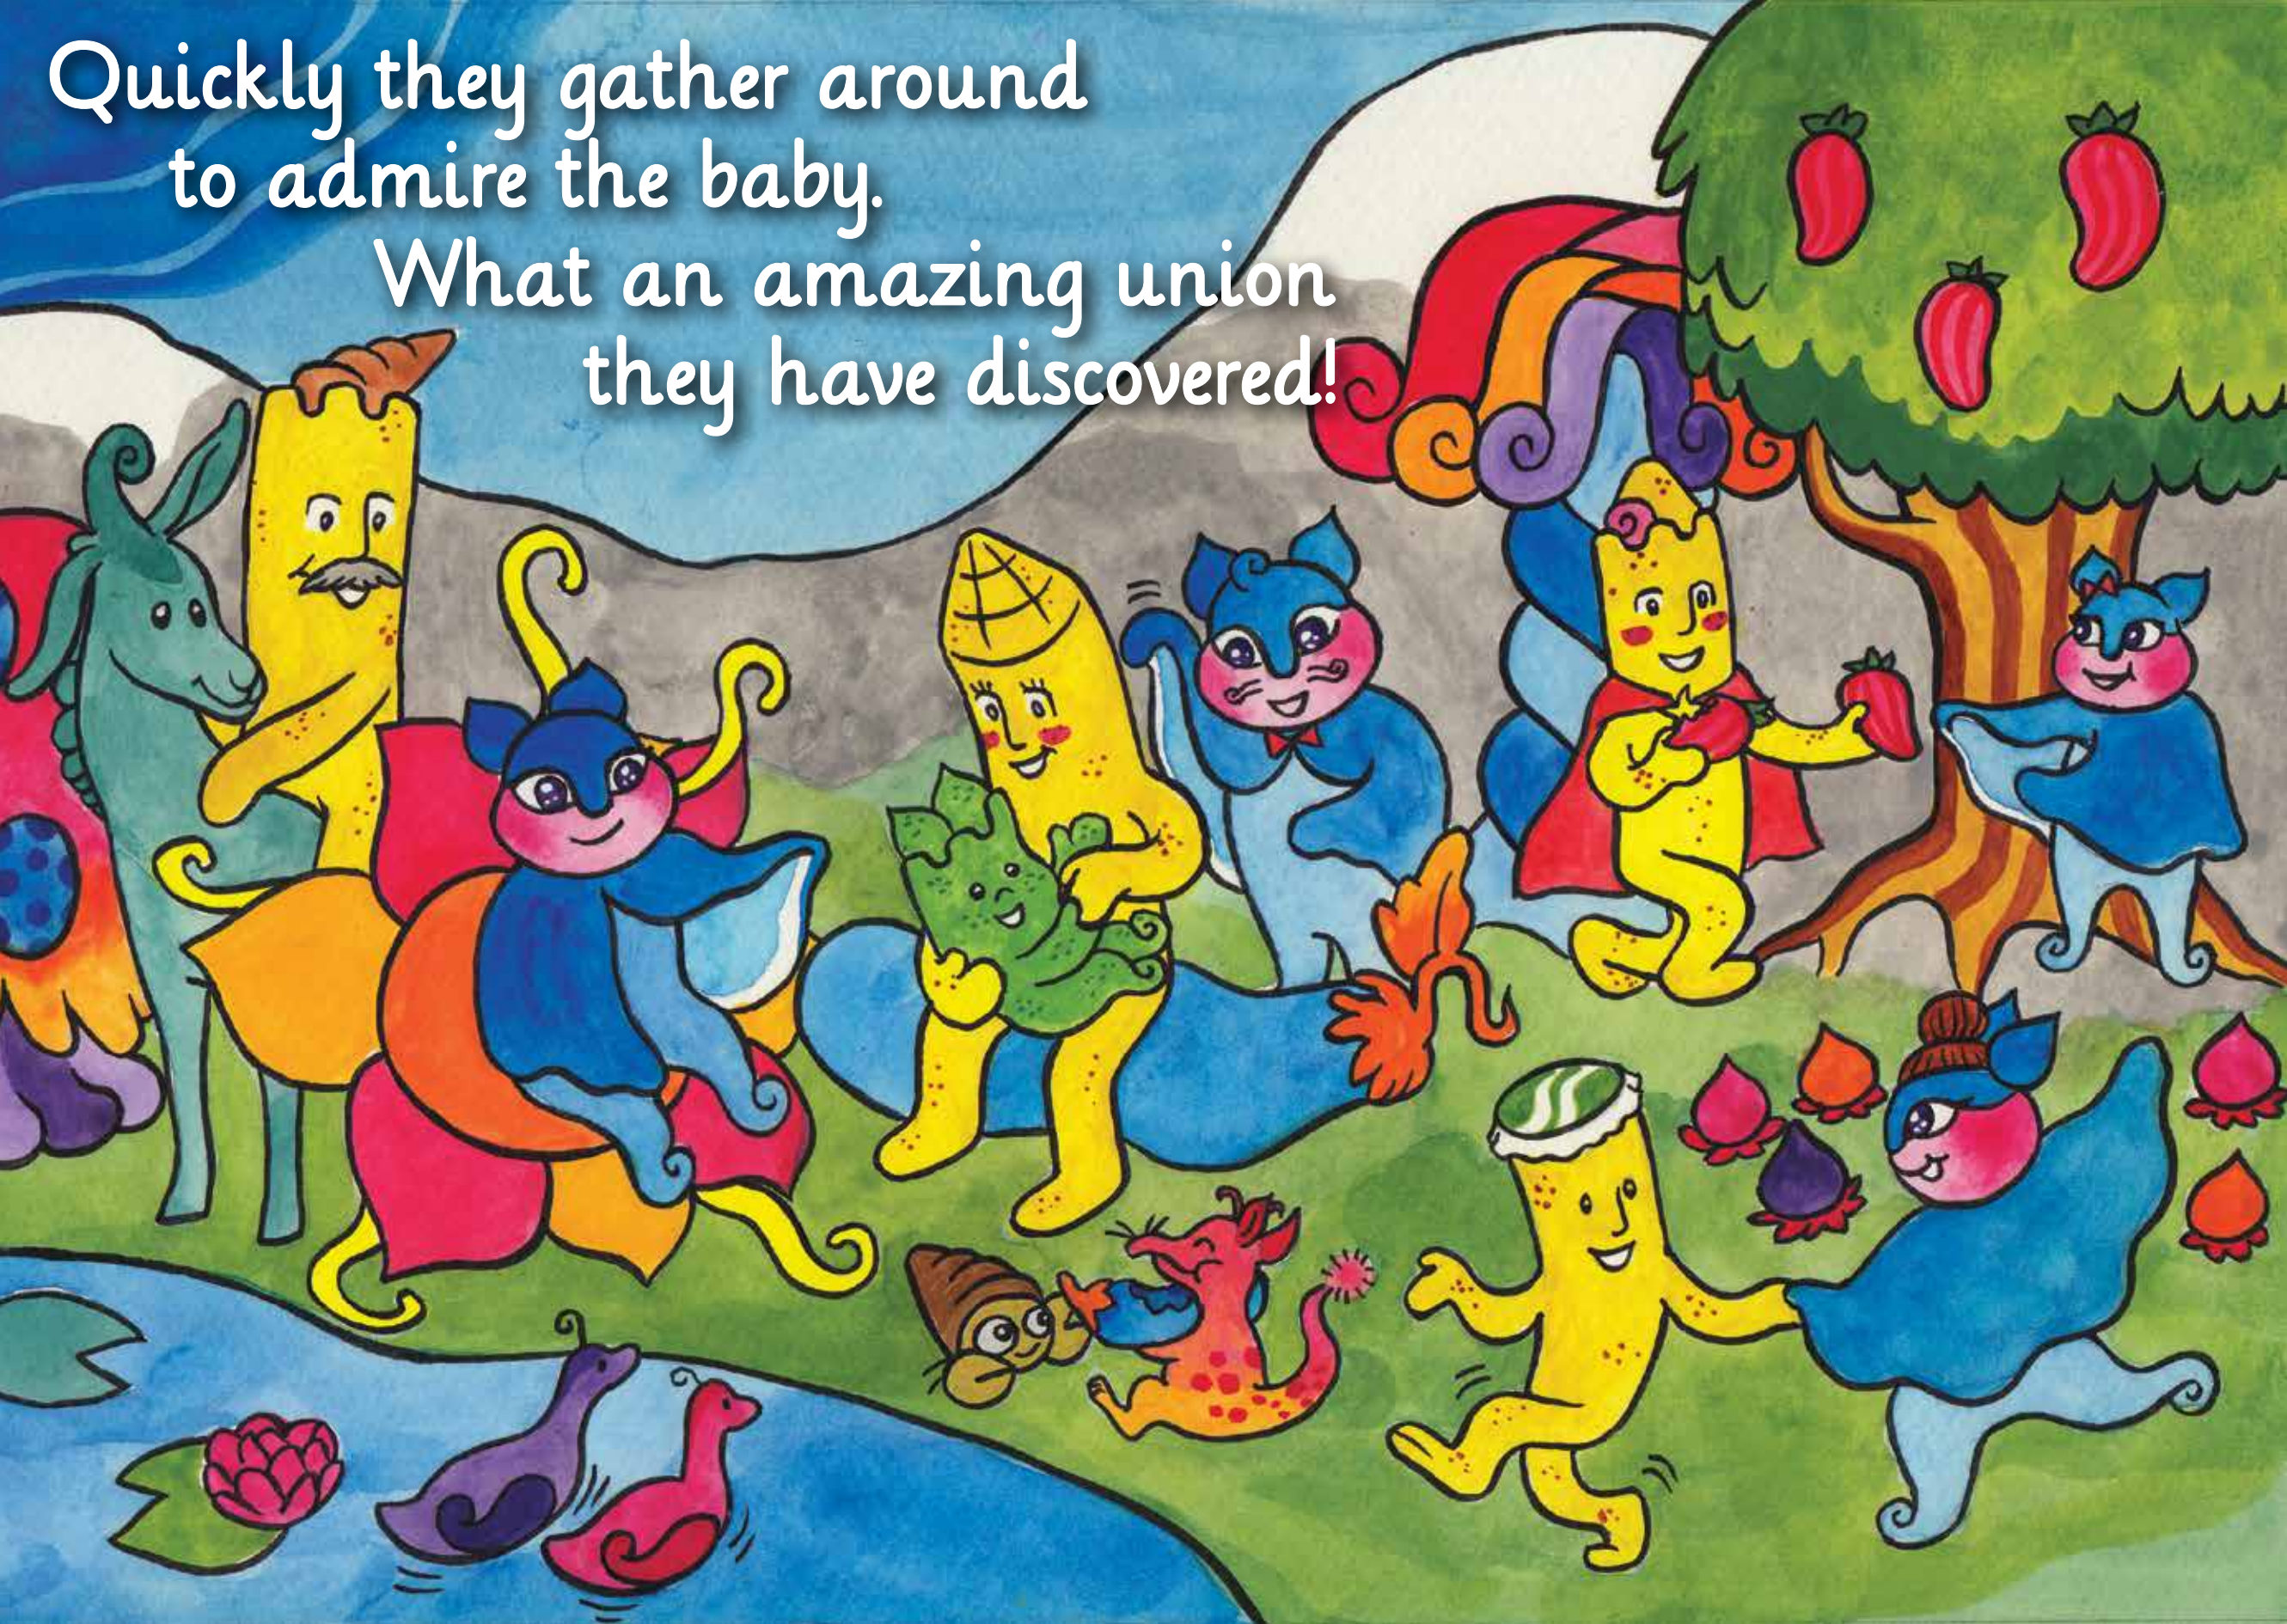

What else do they find?
Willow and Sander together,
holding hands...

...and their baby
making an appearance!

Quickly they gather around to admire the baby.

What an amazing union
they have discovered!

This place is full of happy energy, both tribes decide to settle here. They have grown to understand and respect each other, so they live together in harmony, unity and happily ever after.

This is a story about love, inclusion, harmony, unity and mutual respect.

For generations, the Sand and Sea People have been living in their own habitats. They have been sceptical about one another, feeding myths and negative beliefs. One day, young Sander and Willow meet, get to know each other and fall in love. When the young lovers run away from home, it brings both tribes together in unity to search for them. What will happen to the young lovers? Can they live happily ever after?

Let's build a kinder and better community with love and respect.
